

This is the time of year when the sky touches the earth, the stars light our way home, and Heaven is no further than your heart.